June 2, 1975

Dear Mr. Weinberg:

Aren't the articles about you in the Sunday Rev, June 1st 1975, it is a shame the New York Times did not know about plagiarism. You strike me as being highly intelligent. In fact, your ear level, from the eye, points that out quite strongly.

My opinions do stand yours, if nothing else, from mother wit. It is an historical fact that the aftermath of all wars breeds immoral behaviors. Watergate was the culmination of a greed for power by little men, who for the most part were shyster lawyers, undressed misfits in public office, who make laws to benefit themselves. We all suffer from the imposition of such enactments.

Our great nation has long

On the day when John Kennedy was shot down I was working at King Bros., Inc., in Balto. as a proof reader. It struck me as a perfidious plot when it occurred. I still think so.

The Warren Report was a "Whitewash" as you aptly called the document. Our Pentagon plays absurd games as does the Justice Dept. of the U.S. in their policies for entrapment through begging phones, or manufacturing half truths to get anyone they desire.

I am 67 yrs. of age, a veteran of the Battle for Leyte Gulf, P.I., Oct. 24, 1944 and a journalist for 50 years. Justice is a strange word in our country.

I do hope you unravel the Gordian Knot and win national recognition for your efforts in seeking the whole truth.

Yours sincerely,
August C. S. Myers
